INSECTS THE ANIMAL

Insects are the biggest animal group, according to the known animal species insects are more than the half of them, include more than 1 million of species.

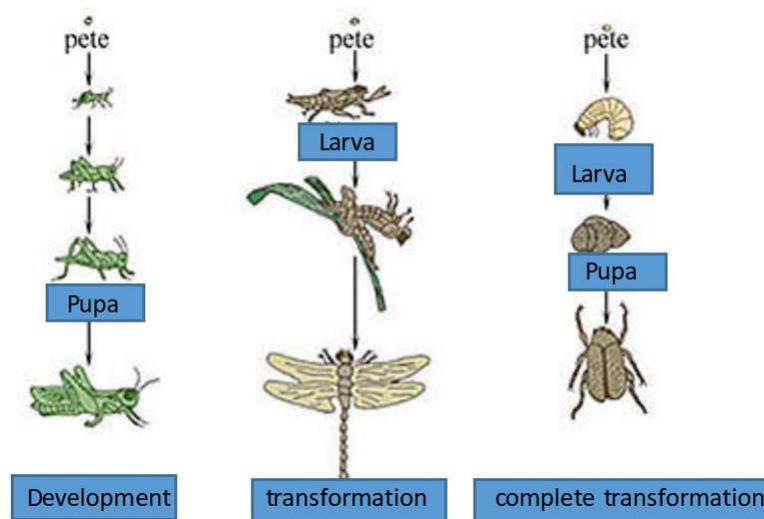

We can find insects all over the world, but mainly in lands and very seldom in sea.

The Insects class is characterized by a well-developed nervous system, so insects are able to detect a wide variety of stimuli from the environment and are able to respond to them extremely quickly.

The third type of development is development, in which eggs hatched from eggs also resemble adults in body composition and lifestyle. This is how, for example, grasshoppers and crickets develop.

The other type of development is transformation, which differs from complete transformation in that there is no pupa shape. For example, dragonflies evolve with transformation

The typical development of insects is the complete transformation, which consists of four main stages: egg, larva, pupa, adult animal (imago). It develops from a larva, which has larval organs and a different lifestyle from adult animals. For example, beetles, bees, flies and butterflies develop

The name INSECTA is latin origin and means CUT.

They got their name because their body is cut in three pieces.

DREAMS OF FLYING

I think this is the only way to move.
I am not flying high, sometime is feel with my belly the last leaf of a tree

I always wanted to help people, I like to speak with other people, to understand their problem and telling them what and how they have to correct their mistakes. I know what is good for the others. I became quite angry if they are so stupid not to understand what I suggest or they do not want to accept my suggestion.

I like to take care of people!

- I have a lot of energy, especially physically. I think I have higher physical strength level than the others
  - I am perfectionist
there is an inner whacker who is not allowing me to stop.
  - I am quite industrious
  - I am always forcing myself to do things correctly, I cannot do mistakes.
  - I think I am very productive woman. I want to be best in every field I am . I want to be the boss in every situation
  - I like to be in nature, like to go out and paint in the nature

For me sexuality and showing my feminine quality is very important. I always had big tits, and when I was a teenager I thought it is a defect, but after I realized it is freedom. It is a freedom to show what I have. I have also very high libido. For me it is important to have body contact, but especially sexual body contact. but none can betray me. I have to know and have to hear from my partner, I AM THE ONLY ONE in his life. None else can be in my partner's life !

After 2 weeks - less urination during the night and also improvement in my breast
related to the pain.

After 1,5 month -

No urination during the night and just a small pain in the breast, but now I can't decide that this pain is because I am pregnant. No swelling limbs. I had a urinary infection but lasted just one day and then went away

After 2 months -

now I am going to the end of the pregnancy, but feeling good taking remedy. I do not want to stop taking it. ( during this 2 month we spoke about to stop a little bit, not to take every day, but take 2 times or once a week ) So she went on taking the remedy
