- Closing eyes ameliorates
- Impatience about his children
- Duty too much sense of duty
- Responsibility, taking responsibility too seriously

Kali Carb

- Opening eyes - open to environment - so we react - so we are affected - either we feel good or bad
- When you react - you lose your composure and peace of mind, you get irritated
- Kali carb does not want to react so he closes his eyes
- Closing eyes - no reaction - harmony, peace with myself
- Closing eyes ameliorates - Kent

Kali Carb

- Kali carb patient lives in his own world. If he finds anything or any situation of not his liking then he does not want any information about it, he will not accept that fact that there is a disturbing situation around, he will ignore the changing or new found information
- For him accepting the real situation is troublesome so he turns away his attention from reality - closing eyes amel - Denial
- Happy with his own beliefs, when confronted with new reality due to changed circumstances that goes against his beliefs - makes him restless - turns his attention away from reality and not accept it though he knows that new found reality is better

Kali Carb

- Impatience children about his - Hahnemann
- She is eager to do something quickly without being able to wait for it
- I want it to happen just now, it is taking too long.
- Impatience, because she can't see her children in any trouble
- She wants to remove their sufferings without any delay

Kali Carb

- Impatience about his children
- Why his children?
  - Emotional bond is there but not so much, it is more authoritative, out of sense of emotional responsibility they themselves are responsible for the betterment of children. They feel themselves as male - more intelligent, rational less emotional, sense of responsibility and duty, she wants to perform them with care and sincerity

Kali Carb

- Dominating character that dominates the children
- Takes responsibility for those who cannot do things on their own like children and old people, out of feeling of duty and responsibility
- Feels herself mature and elderly as compared to every member of family - not out of emotional bondage but rational feeling that she is responsible
- Always fulfilling their needs even when her health deteriorates but never shows resentment, but closes her eyes

Kali Carb

- Censorious
- Emotions predominated by intellect
- Quarrelsome with her family
- Mildness alternating with anger
- Anger alternating with tranquillity
- Admonition aggravates - because she feels whatever she does is correct and sincere and no one has the right to suggest her or advise her
- Weeping admonition from

- Kali carbonicum is a remedy from the mineral kingdom, belonging to the sycotic miasm.
- The main theme of Kali carbonicum is the vital fear and reactivity (Carbo) that is seen when a person lacks the support of a family or group (Kali).
- The main symptom of Kali carbonicum is the fear of being alone and desire for company.
- In the Kali carbonicum woman there is tremendous anxiety and fear when she is alone. She seeks to belong to a group/family so that she is never alone. This anxiety is seen everywhere.

Kali carb

- For example:
  - Frightened at trifles
  - Fear of being alone
  - Startled easily, from noise, from touch
  - Dreams of ghosts, of danger, of robbers, of falling from a height, of frightful figures
  - There is a strong desire for support which is seen in:
    - Carried, desires to be
    - Rocking ameliorates
    - Shrieking for aid

Kali carb

- Her dependence on the group or family is so great that her entire life revolves around her family - the health of family members, the integrity of her family, the amount of support she gets from her family, etc.
- She becomes anxious if her child falls sick or doesn't do well in exams and she can become irritable and impatient with him.
- Similarly when she feels that her husband is not supporting her enough, she becomes irritable, quarrelsome and nagging which is expressed as "Shrieking at trifles".

Kali carb

- "Dreams of dead relatives" in Kali carbonicum shows her extreme concern for her family.
- One of the big aggravating factors for Kali carbonicum would be the sickness of any member of her family, especially the supporting one.
- She feels forsaken when she doesn't get the support she needs. This can make her very irritable, angry, quarrelsome, shrieking at trifles - "Dream of quarrelling with dead relatives, of dead persons, as if they were alive and quarrelled with her" (Allen's Encyclopedia).

Kali carb

- Company, desires for, yet treats them outrageously. This symptom combines three main components of Kali carbonicum
  - The first is the desire for company: she wants company and is dependent on it; she is aggravated when alone, must have support and always likes to be with people who support her
  - The second component is that she treats them outrageously, which means she always shows dissatisfaction with people on whom she is dependent
  - The third aspect is quarrelsomeness: when she is discontented she cannot keep quiet, she has to quarrel
- Hence we find in Phatak's Materia Medica: - Quarrels with his family and - Quarrels with his bread and butter.

Kali carb

- In the clinic, the Kali carbonicum person can be a very faithful patient, following up quite regularly and sticking to the same doctor for a long time.
- But the trouble begins when she starts considering the physician as a family member. Then she will become truly dependent on the physician, she will never leave him; but each time she comes she will quarrel and insist that she is not better.

Kali carb

- Kali carbonicum patients speak loudly and are impatient with the progress. They can be quite nagging with the physician as if he is not paying enough attention to them or not supporting them. They will tempt the doctor by their general sourness and extreme dependence to shirk responsibility towards them - which is similar to the origin of their state, a neglecting and irresponsible spouse.
- Often a Kali carbonicum person will bring another member of his family to the clinic for treatment

Kali carb

- Peculiar to Kali carbonicum is quarrelsomeness only with family and husband, and not so much with outsiders (except unfortunately with the physician).
- After quarrelling, she can get quite tearful: "Weeping, when telling of her sickness", and also can display a more pitiable state of begging, and entreating.
- When her efforts to get the support she needs fail, she becomes "Indifferent when in society", "Averse to husband, to members of the family", shows "Disgust", "Hatred" and becomes "Sulky", "Repulsive".

Kali carb

- The sycotic aspect of Kali carbonicum is seen in the feeling: "I am too weak to support myself and need the company of family."
- Here it compares with Medorrhinum in sycosis and there are many rubrics where the two are found together.

Kali carb

- The physical symptoms accompanying the Kali carbonicum personality that I have confirmed are:
  - Weakness in back, amel. lying flat on back
  - Profuse perspiration all over the body, especially on the upper lip
  - Desires sweets
  - Intolerance to cold
  - Breathlessness that makes her sit bent forwards
  - Aggravation at 3:00 a.m.

Kali carb – Rubrics

- Anxiety, alone, when
- Company, desires for, alone, aggravated, while
- Company, desires for, treats them outrageously, yet
- Discontented, everything, with
- Impatience, children, about his
- Shrieking, aid, for
- Shrieking, trifles, at
- Starting, easily
- Starting, fright from and as from
